Ammoniated Soluble Superphosphate | Ammoniated Soluble Superphosphate

THE STAR AMMONIATED SOLUBLE SUPER PHOSPHATE, having gained on its own merits the largest reputation of any Fertilizer ever sold in the United States,—Other manufacturers, are using the trade mark of the "STAR," for their articles, much inferior in quality and that cost 100 per cent less, in order to make money for themselves, regardless of the interest of the poor farmer. The manufacturers of the original "STAR," with reluctance have determined, in order to prevent the great impositions, now being practiced in some parts of the United States, and to save the name of that formerly known as the "STAR" to change the trade mark to L & R, with the above cut, which has been duly patented. Next Season each sack will contain precisely the same Fertilizer as we sold last season, but will be stamped with the new trade mark and the words will be printed on the back of each sack with the analysis. We refer to all farmers who have used the STAR as to the reputation and value of the article as a Fertilizer.

GREAT AND GOOD FERTILIZER,

FORMERLY THE STAR AMMONIATED

SOLUBLE

SUPER PHOSPHATE.

——The Board of Aldermen will meet to night in regular session.

Young Man-Afraid-of-his-Mother-in-Law has returned from the Centennial.

——The Raleigh Light Artillery will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at their armory.

——We hear that the typos of this city are arranging a Centennial excursion to come off soon.

——The German Club will hold a meeting to-night at the office of Lee, Whitaker & Johnson.

——Quite a large number of dwelling houses are in process of construction in the first and second wards.

——A number of revivals, or pretracted meetings, are going on in the country in Baptist and Methodist churches.

——So many went to the speaking at Johnson's Store yesterday that the streets wore a rather deserted appearance.

——Poultry thieving has been in full blast for some time past. It is almost time for wood-pile depredations to commence.

——The Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad will change its schedule on Sunday to conform to that of the North Carolina Railroad.

——The feminine portion of the population are getting their silks, satins, tarletans, furbelows and flounces ready for the fair week dances.

——What we want to see: A man who can come back from the Centennial and have the moral courage not to say "it's a big thing."

——Dr. Blacknall has received his annual car load of 'possums from Alamance county. They will be kept and fattened before being sacrificed.

——The people in that section of the county will bear in mind that Hon. A. S. Merrimon will speak at Cary on Saturday next, the 7th inst.

——The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society held its weekly meeting at the Yarborough House last night. Proceedings to-morrow.

——The Oak City Pleasure Club will meet to-night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of reorganizing for the season. All members are requested to be present.

——Mayor Manly received a letter yesterday from John L. Cope, Treasurer of the Savannah Benevolent Association, acknowledging the receipt of $184 50 from the citizens of this place.

——Our correspondents must pardon us for the small amount of attention paid them within the past week. Our columns have been crowded excessively with matter which could not stand over.

——The Raleigh Light Infantry will meet promptly at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, at the Baptist Grove, for their regular monthly parade. Capt. Manly earnestly requests every member to attend.

——We ought to have said in yesterday's paper that the piece of poetry which appeared in that issue—"De Georgey Darkey's Hymn"—was partly the composition of Col James Fontleroy Taylord, the bard of Rhamkatte. He added to, revised and improved upon the original.

——Business is lively enough. At least there is plenty of barter and exchange. The farmers come to town in great numbers and sell their cotton, but for this they only take in exchange such farm supplies as are needed, or liquidate debts contracted long ago for fertilizers or food. The cotton has thus far put very little money in circulation and there is no prospect that it will do so.

Convicts Received.

Sheriff R. R. McCalls, of Caldwell county, arrived in our city yesterday bringing to the penitentiary Wm. J James and Pinkney Borders, both white, and both convicted of larceny at the recent term of Caldwell court. The former was sentenced for 3 years and the latter for 5 years.

AN AFRICAN OUTGUSH!

Arrival of Judge Settle.

Negroes and Office-Holders Rampant

DANCING DERVISHES—A HOWLING HOOTING MOB—THAT "PERSESHUN," ETC.

Yesterday morning an unusual bustle was noticeable in and around the headquarters of the Republican State Executive Committee which by the way is in the Standard building—a building built by Littlefield with from the tax-payers of this State. Truly it is meet that this committee should inhabit a building having such a Republican-like origin. Thinking that this activity had something to do with the expected arrival of Judge Settle, a visit was paid to the delectable spot, when it was found that a platform had been erected in front and draped in such a profusion of bunting that hardly a plank could be seen. This was taken to be typical of the manner in which Radicals hide their sins.—They make this flag hide rascalities, and come out heavily virtuous with the sanguinary under garment. The whole front of the building was garnished with cambric, red, white and blue. All day the preparations went on, while groups of the nation's wards stood admiringly by, showing their ivory at the faintest provocation.

About 6 o'clock in the afternoon the beating of drums and braying of brass horns collected a crowd, consisting of sixty negro men and about forty negro boys of all sizes. This mass of the night-side of animated nature proceeded a couple of miles down the old Fayettevile road where they camped until their hero, came along, about half past 7 o'clock, in a carriage containing J. P. Pararie of market house notoriety, and one Captain Timothy F. Lee, ex-Sheriff and "dear" to his boudsmen and the people of Wake.

EIGHT WHITE MEN,

JUDGE SETTLE,

In the rear of the Judge's vehicle followed a mob of negroes of all sizes, sexes and ages, who had been attracted by the strains of the band. The Judge, it must be confessed, bore the infliction like a little man, but when he succeeded in getting into the Yarbrough House a relieved expression dwelt upon his face, which afterwards was considerably heightened when he was informed he would not be expected to speak until 9 o'clock.

While the Judge was taking his ease in his inn the prominent feature of the evening came off. It was indeed a prominent feature, prominent in its laughable ridiculousness. We allude to the

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

Imagine about 75 enthused Africans, together with about 100 hooting, yelling, whistling and screaming boys, carrying burning pine knots, with here and there a transparency, and you have the tout ensemble of the "perseshun." The moving spirit, for he was mounted on a crow-pecked gray, was one Albert Magnin, ex-secretary of the Seymour and Blair club of 1868, an original member of the Constitutional Guard, ex-county treasurer, but now a mighty Justice of the Peace and high up in the local temple of ultra Republicanism. Mr. Magnin is better known to the people as an ex-county treasurer, in fact those who have to pay taxes can't well forget him. Though his official career was but a short one, he, like Tim. Lee, proved himself "dear" to the people.

Over a few of the streets this string of Ashantee humanity spread itself, followed by a constantly increasing crowd. A minute description of the scene is well-nigh impossible. Those who have read descriptions of can get a faint conception of the reality. The excitement, or rather insanity, spread to the women and kinky-headed damsels waltzed along the pavements, and in the exuberance of their joy occasionally changed the step into a jig, having a hands-all-round with the men.

At about 9 o'clock the procession wended its way back to where the platform was, when Judge Settle was introduced by Willie D. Jones, a Major-General in the HOLDEN-KIRK WAR.

Judge Settle commenced his remarks by alluding to his fatigue, and the severe strain his voice had undergone by reasons of constant speaking, therefore he requested the crowd to quiet in order that they might hear him.

He said he could not allude to the topics which he and Governor Vance had been discussing, owing to that gentleman's absence, but he would make a few general remarks in regard to the national contest. As a preface to these remarks he said that he had told his friends that the Republican ticket, State and National, would be elected beyond all doubt, but he could now tell them, after a canvass of almost all sections of the State, that they might reasonably claim 10,000 majority, and he felt certain that white men in the State would vote the ticket this time.

The Judge, after getting this bouncer out without choking, sailed into Sammy Tilden and Tommy Hendricks with a vim. He swore that Tilden was the bosom friend and partner in the crimes of Boss Tweed. He said that this "noble army of reformers" were nobody but a hungry set of "outs who wanted the pap of the "ins"; that the country had prospered amazingly under Republican rule; that at no time since its foundation has the credit of the government been so good in foreign markets as now, and that in spite of the Democratic slander that the character of the American government was a stench in the nostrils of foreign nations, "you, my friends are a great and glorious people," ["You are kerect, Judge," came from a big buck negro, who was holding near by a torch.]

The Judge proceeded in his arraignment of the Democratic party for everything mean in the calendar of political meanness.

When Judge Settle had finished speaking a banner bearing the names of Hayes and Wheeler was stretched across the streets, and then Mr. R. C. Badger responded to his name and took the stand. His speech was exclusively for the negroes, and its tenor was to convince them that their worst enemies are the white men of the South. He spoke to them of the time when a few aristocratic, slave-owning families controlled North Carolina, and warned them to beware of the return of that time. Considering that the speaker sprang from aristocratic ancestors; that he is a son of Geo. E. Badger, of blessed memory, such slurs from him are in very questionable taste, and suggests the rather more expressive than elegant quotation, "It's an ill bird that befouls its own nest."

After Mr. Badger came Tourgee; the fragrant Tourgee! He spoke altogether to the negroes also; indeed, there were few others within the sound of his voice. His speech was on the facetious (?) order, and the negroes laughed themselves hoarse. Only one point deserves any mention, and that is the fact that through some unaccountable accident he stumbled once upon the truth. In referring in complimentary terms to his boss, he said he had no doubt Judge Settle had been blushing all night, and we have equally as little doubt on the subject. If he can be moved to blush at anything, he must have blushed as he found himself the centre of that hooting mob, and blushed continually

The negroes called next for Smith, but he was not present and a better man was introduced: Windy Billy Henderson. Windy sawed the air and treated his audience to some specimens of his own choice English. He was more merciful than anybody had any reasonable right to expect, and after norating for about 20 minutes let up.

Magnin then proposed three cheers for the Republican tickets and announced the meeting adjourned.

The Speaking at Johnson's Store.

A great many people from Raleigh were at Johnson's store, in Panther Branch Township, yesterday, to hear the gubernatorial candidates. Most of them returned to the city last evening, and the opinion as to the result of the discussion is singularly unanimous. Those present represent Gov. Vance's victory as complete at every step of the debate. Some of those who attended say that his thirty minutes rejoinder was the most scathing thing they ever heard. Gov. Vance spent last night at the residence of L. D. Stephenson, Esq., in the county, and will be in this morning, while Judge Settle came on to the city to address the colored children of the Oberlin Sunday school. Both of the candidates will speak to-day in the city.

Longevity and Live Weight in Chatham.

There is now living on Bear Creek, in Chatham county, an old colored woman named Nannie Rives, aged one hundred and six years. She was born in Halifax county, and remembers distinctly the passage of the British under Lord Cornwallis through that county on their way to Yorktown, during the war of the revolution. The gentleman with whom she now lives and to whom she belonged when a slave, (William A. Rives, Esq.,) is in his seventy-third year, and weighs three hundred and twenty five pounds avoirdupoise. What county in the State can beat this for longevity or live weight?

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS!

Reception to Gov. Vance!

The members of the Tilden and Vance Club of Raleigh, and all other Democrats, are requested to meet at Metropolitan Hall this morning at 9 o'clock, for the purpose of awarding a proper reception to Gov. Vance as he comes to the city. It is desirable that as many as possible be mounted. Let all Democrats heed this call, and let us give to our standard-bearer such a reception as he has a right to expect at the State Capital.

FROM VANCE.

The Speaking at Earpboro—A Rousing Reception—Five Counties Represented—Mr. Bailey's Card—What the People Think—Old Johnston All Right.

EARPSBORO, Johnston Co. October 4th, 1876.

The third discussion of the gubernatorial candidates in Johnston county came off to-day at Earpsboro, and was a complete success for Gov. Vance. Wilson, Greene, Pitt and Johnston counties were represented. There were fully one thousand people present. The ladies were out in goodly numbers, more so than at any of the meetings for several days.—The wind blew very strong and was bad on the candidates, still, by increased exertion, they managed to make their voices reach the whole audience. The Eagle Rock Tilden and Vance Club was out one hundred strong, mounted on fine horses. Gov. Vance was met one mile from town by 150 mounted men and about 500 on foot and, amid shouts of wild enthusiasm, was escorted to town. The meeting to-day was a

GLORIOUS SUCCESS

for Vance. The whole crowd or nearly so, was for Vance. There were only about 25 white radicals, and 150 negroes. The question is where are the white Radicals of Johnston? There were but very few at Meadow, Smithfield, or Earpsboro. I learn that a good many of the Radicals from some cause are kept back from hearing Vance. I have made dilligent enquiry why this is so, and the general impression is that a few do not want to hear, and they keep the rest away.

Gov. Vance took up

THE BAILEY CARD

and in strong and impressive arguments showed up the doings and rascality of the Republican party. Judge Settle, in his answer, in strong terms denied all the statements in the Bailey card, and pronounced them false in every particular. The general impression among the leading Democrats is that there is a good deal back that other know of, and might tell, and that half has not been told.

Maj. Ryals, candidate for the House, is doing good work, and gives encouraging words for Johnston county. One of the prominent men of Johnston said to me to-day, "that old Johnston was all right. Prejudices were beginning to fail and giving away to

TRUTH AND JUSTICE.

The many misrepresentations relative to Governor Vance are passing away, and reason again enthroned where prejudices before delighted to dwell. The poverty of the county begins to tell, and the people of Johnston are ready for a change for the better. We may estimate Vance's majority in this county at 500."

First Joint Discussion in Wake—A Large and Enthusiastic Crowd—A Complete Vance Victory.—Ending with a Barbecue—How They Got It on Bill Smith in Johnston.

JOHNSON'S STORE, WAKE CO. Oct. 5, '76.

The first joint discussion in Wake county was immense both in numbers and success for Gov. Vance. There were between three thousand and five thousand people gathered, from Wake, Harnett and Johnston counties. The ladies to the number of about three hundred did honor to the day by their presence. It is a noticeable fact that the ladies at Johnson's store, as well at all other places, were for Vance. While the Governor is speaking by their countenances you can see that Gov. Vance, the great Democratic standard bearer of North Carolina, has a large place in their hearts. When Judge Settle is speaking their faces change; no smiles, no sympathy for the man that represents the social equality party.

The main discussion was very spirited. Gov. Vance was feeling remarkably well, his voice was much better than for some days. The large and enthusiastic crowd seemed to imbue him with renewed vigor, and he just went for the Judge with gloves off, and handled him as if he was on a rack. The Judge took it well, and bore up under it like a martyr. In Gov. Vance's rejoinder he was eloquent and brought out facts that were crushing and unanswerable. Judge Settle had charged that Maj. Russ had said that at a certain time during the war, Gov. Vance had returned from Richmond and had said to him (Maj. Russ) that the war must be prosecuted with new vigor, and that there was no reason why he (Gov. Vance) should not be next President of the Southern Confederacy.

Gov. Vance denied that he had ever said any such thing.

Judge Settle asked him if it was not true.

Gov. Vance replied: "No it is not; I answer every question you ask me, now are you in favor of civil rights?"

NO ANSWER.

Tim. Lee, come in for a good share, the Governor throwing up his discrepancies in the school funds as per his report to Magnin, also many other of his shortcomings. Tim. was on the stand when the Governor opened on him, but when his name was mentioned Lee was non est.

The barbecue was a perfect success. Wagon loads of bread, meat and sweet potatoes were dispensed and quickly disposed of by the hungry crowd. There was enough for all, and every body was jubilant and happy. The Democrats were especially happy because Gov. Vance had given the Judge such a tremendous scorching. The Governor's rejoinder was the crowning one of the campaign. There were a good many Raleighites out to-day. The Rads down cast, we Democrats happy as larks and overjoyed at the manner in which Vance had handled his competitor.

In Gov. Vance's speech at Smithfield he gave Blow Your Horn Billy a good hit.

Governor Vance charged that Bill Smith not only caught deserters with blood hounds, but also bridled them because they would not volunteer, and was indicted at Smithfield court for bridling men, and submitted to a plea of guilty and paid the cost.

James Chestnut stepped upon the stand and testified that he was one of the men Bill Smith tried to bridle.

In Judge Settle's rejoinder, at Smithfield, he bissed out war and bloody shirt worse, if anything, than on any stump on the campaign.

The Candidates To-Morrow.

To-morrow the gubernatorial candidates speak at Laws' in New Light township. Governor Vance will be met at Falls of Neuse by the Tilden and Vance clubs of St. Matthew's township, Dunnsville, Forestville and other places, and escorted to the place of speaking. It is probable that a large number of the members of the club of this city, will participate in this ovation to Governor Vance. If the reports we hear be true, and they come from reliable gentlemen, New Light will poll at the next election a much stronger Democratic vote than she ever did before.

Free Transportation Granted.

President J. M. Robinson and Superintendent E. G. Ghio, of Portsmouth, Va., have generously given free transportation to the cadets of the Portsmouth Military Academy, Capt. Chas. T. Phillips commanding, for their visit to Raleigh during the approaching State Fair.

Capt. Phillips is a veteran of the war, having been Adjutant of the 9th Virginia, one of the most celebrated regiments in Pickett's division. His corps is said to be superbly drilled in the bayonet exercise and skirmish drill, and we look forward to their visit with much interest.

A Requisition to Issue.

Yesterday our executive department was officially informed that a negro by the name of Drummond has been arrested and confined in the jail of Jerusalem, Southampton county, Va. Drummond a few years ago killed a brother darkey at a meeting-house in Edgecombe county, was arrested but succeeded in making his escape. He will be brought back to that county as soon as Governor Brogden's requisition is received by the Governor of Virginia.

Don't Gin or Pack Damp Cotton.

The following is from an exchange, and is valuable to farmers: "We learn that reclamations have already been made on commission merchants on cotton that was packed so damp as to make it unmerchantable, and which don't appear so fully until the bales are opened." We caution our friends in the country not to gin their cotton damp, or have it ginned and packed that way, as the result will be to them a loss.

Messrs. A. C. Saunders & Co., have on hand a large and well selected stock of groceries, such as Extra and Family Flour, the best A and C and granulated sugar and clear red bulk sides, which they will sell very cheap. It would be to every one's interest to call and see him.

7TH DIST—WILLIAM M. ROBBINS, of Iredell.
8TH DIST—ROBERT B. VANCE, of Buncombe.

Our subscribers will greatly oblige us by giving prompt information of any delay in receiving their papers.

OUR friends should vote early.

VOTE for members of Congress last.

EVERYBODY will believe Rev. C. T. Bailey.

THE STEPHEN'S MURDER.—"The Republicans had much to do with that crime."—W. W. Holden to Rev. C. T. Bailey.

GOVERNOR Brogden must feel sure of his election. He is going to let a black voter hang to-day in his Congressional District.

THERE can be no hope for reform under Hayes, for the very men who need to be "reformed," are the fellows who will control the administration, should Hayes be elected.

FROM the Hillsboro Recorder we learn that the people of Orange pay $40,000 taxes under the present constitution, annually; whereas under the old constitution, they paid less than $20,000. Another argument for the amendments.

THE Democrats carried Colorado in 1874 by a majority of 2,163 on the vote for Congress. The whole vote of the State aggregated only 16,000, which is about the vote of Albany, New York; or equivalent to the combined votes of Wake, Orange, Chatham, Johnston, Nash, Franklin, Granville and Person counties, in this State. It is a small affair, and possesses little political significance.

AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE II.

Six amendments are proposed to article II, of the Constitution. The amendment to sections 5, alters the time of the meeting of the General Assembly to the first Wednesday in January next after their election. The object of this is to get rid of the vacation for the Christmas holidays, and the delay and expense incident thereto. This change will be particularly beneficial to farmers who attend the legislature. They will not be called off from their crops, when they are gathering and marketing them.

Sections 4 and 8 are obsolete, and should be abrogated. Our Constitution should not go down to posterity encumbered with dead matter.

Section 27 is proposed to be amended, so as to make the terms of office of Senators and Representatives commence at the time of their election. This, of course, can meet with no objection, from any source whatever.

The amendment proposed to section 29, merely abrogates the obsolete parts of this section; and needs no argument in its favor.

The most important ordinance in relation to this article, proposes an additional section, by which the sessions of the General Assembly are restricted to sixty days, the per diem at $4.00, the mileage to 10 cents per mile, and the limit of an extra session to twenty days, with the same per diem and mileage. This is solely in the interest of economy. This amendment would save fifty thousand dollars a session, and the weight of taxation would be proportionately lightened.

This cutting down of expenses, no one will object to. Everybody should favor measures that tend to reduce the burden of taxation, under which we have been groaning since the Radicals began robbing the State in 1868. This saving can be effected without in the least affecting or crippling legislation. Thirty days sessions hereafter will be long enough for all the legitimate purposes of government; and $4.00 a day is a sufficient sum for the payment of expenses, incurred during the sessions, as prices have fallen, within the last year or two.

The country has suffered severely from over taxation. Government—State, county and National are too costly: and economy is the word, now.

HOW TO VOTE AT THE ENSUING ELECTION.

At the ensuing election six tickets are to be voted, and consequently the same number of ballot-boxes will have to be used at such voting place or precinct. The following are the correct tickets, arranged according to law:

1. Electoral Ticket:—Ten Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States. Against the name of each elector shall be designated the number of the Congressional District to which he belongs.
2. State Ticket.—Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Attorney-General.
3. Congressional Ticket.—Members of the House of Representatives of the 45th Congress.
4. Legislative Ticket.—Senator (or Senators) in the General Assembly and member (or members) of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly.
5. County Ticket.—County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, County Surveyor, five County Commissioners, Coroner and Sheriff.
6. Constitutional Amendments tickets—"Ratification."

We notice that some of our exchanges have through an oversight suggested "adoption," as the proper ticket for the Constitutional Amendments. The ordinance of the Convention requires the ticket to be "Ratification".

The number of the Congressional district to which each elector belongs must be stated. This is in accordance with our State law—Act of 1868, chap. 45, sec. 2, (Battle's Revisal, chap. 40, sec. 2), which provides:

"The names of the electors to be chosen shall be written on each ballot, and each ballot shall contain the name of at least one inhabitant of each Congressional District into which the State may be divided, and against the name of each person shall be designated the number of the Congressional District to which he belongs."

We would suggest that in voting, the voters should cast their ballots for members of Congress last, because this is the only box over which Federal supervisors have any authority. While we do not want other than a perfectly fair election, yet by pursuing this course, it may be that any attempt made by Radicals to get up a row and have such a disturbance as would defeat the election at their polling precinct, will be without results, except with regard to that particular box.

WHAT THE DEMOCRATS HAVE DONE IN ONE YEAR.

The records prove that the heads of the Republican Departments estimated their expenses for the current year at $73,590,822, being an increase on the appropriations of last year of $25,425,698, made undoubtedly with a view to the purposes of the campaign; that the Democratic House estimated that the Government could be honestly and economically administered for $109,244,140; that, yielding some points demanded by the Republican Senate, the appropriations were finally fixed at $120,611,871; that the saving effected by the House on the expenditure of the previous year was $29,944,252, and on the sum demanded for this year, $55,380,650.

THE paper that Holden and Tourgee edits says that "when the present constitution was adopted, the real estate of North Carolina was valued at $89,509,286. Now it is valued at $1,021,038." Under the Canby Constitution, then, according to the calculations of the brilliant genius who does the arithmetic for the Constitution, North Carolina has "lost," in eight years of Republican rule, eighty-eight millions of dollars out of eighty-nine millions. At this rate, they would certainly steal the whole State, if the people were foolish enough to give them a new lease of power.

THE Republicans North send supervisors for our polls, and make a great out-cry if they hear that cheating at the boxes is contemplated anywhere South of the Potomac; yet ballot box stuffing has grown into such a common practice in the Northern States, that there are men who follow the nefarious business as a profession. They are known as "experts in election frauds." It is said that a number of these cheats are now busy in Indiana and Ohio, laying their plans for election day.

ONE of the best indices of an election, is the pool-selling of gamblers. Last Monday pools sold in New York on the Indiana election, Williams (Democrat), for Governor, having the call at $200 to $130 for Harrison (Republican). This significant fact coupled with the expressions of opinion recently given by the New York leading journals, indicates very clearly that a Democratic victory in Indiana is among the certainties.

THE PLAN OF THE "KIRK WAR" ORIGINATED WITH THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AT WASHINGTON, IN THE INTEREST OF THE PARTY.—Ex-Gov. Holden's statement to Rev. C. T. Bailey. (See Raleigh News, Oct. 3, 1876.)

WITHIN eleven years there have been taken from the pockets of the people more than $7,500,000,000 in the way of taxes—over SEVEN HUNDRED MILLIONS OF DOLLARS PER ANNUM. Men who are fond of paying taxes will vote the Republican ticket.

THE Republicans had their speaking at the new Standard office last night. A very appropriate place, as it was built by Littlefield with money stolen from the State—the proceeds of the fraudulent special tax bonds.

IT is no longer a question as to whether Billy Smith did actually chase deserters with blood hounds. Capt. Jarvis settled that question at Smithfield some days ago very effectually.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The New York "Times," correspondent said there were fifty thousand Union veterans at the rally of the Boys in Blue at Indianapolis the other day.

But I don't know about it now. I am almost persuaded that Hampton will be elected, troops or no troops, and probably the State carried for Tilden. Things look that way at the present writing, and I am almost ready to predict that South Carolina will join the solid South in November.

Ex Gov. Scott, of South Carolina, thinks Wade Hampton will be elected sure, unless more troops are sent to the rescue. Senator Patterson—who thought there was "five years more of good stealing in South Carolina"—has seen the President, and says it is all right; the troops will be forwarded.

The Republicans in Kansas are trying hard to white-wash their nominee for Governor, who turns out to have been engaged in transactions of the most disgraceful character. The leading Republican paper at Leavenworth refuses to accept the result of the white-washing, declaring that it is "too thin." After devoting four or five articles to prove that he is not fit to be a candidate, it closes by calling the nominee, with much explicitness, a "white-livered liar."

In regard to South Carolina, Redfield says: When I first went into the State and observed the unanimity of the whites and saw the flags hung on the outer walls marked "we must win" which in the South means a good deal, I began to think they would carry the State. Then when I saw the Federal troops coming into the State, and scattering about, a few at a place, like base-ball players, so as to cover as much territory as possible, I changed my mind, and thought the blacks would win. The nomination of Chamberlain strengthened the Republicans and it seemed to me the chances shifted decidedly in their favor.

A telegram from Indianapolis to the Philadelphia (Ind) Times says: "Ten days ago the State was confidently claimed by the Republicans, and the Democrats felt that it was almost hopelessly out of their hands; but the bloody-shirt issue has run a rapid course and is now an admitted source of weakness. The appearance on the stump for Tilden of such original and able Republicans as Governor Curtin; of Pennsylvania; Governor Blair of Michigan; Governor Koerner, Governor Palmer, Senator Trumbull, and Congressman Farnsworth, of Illinois; Congressman Julian, of this State; Senator Tipton, of Nebraska; General Sigel of New York, and many others of less note, is in itself the most conclusive answer to the Morton crusade of hate against the South, and the best men of both sides confess to-day that it is now reasonably certain to give the State to the Democrats."

PERSONAL.

Mark Twain and Senator Jones are among the shareholders of the Hartford Accident Insurance Company that has just bursted after a brief but inglorious existence of two years.

Mrs. Adelaide Chalk, a widow aged 38, of Windsor street, Bishopsgate, London, died suddenly the other day from heart disease, soon after being confronted by the wife of a man to whom she was to have been married that day, and who had passed himself off as a batchelor.

Babcock was white-washed by reason of the jury which the marshal of the district, who is a brother-in-law of Grant, safely packed with the creatures of the District ring. The court also probably connived at the disgraceful "acquittal" of a criminal whose complicity was notorious and virtually admitted.

John Lock, one of the few survivors of the battle of Waterloo, has just died in an almshouse at Rochester, England, at the age of 84. He was in the Sixth Dragoon Guards, and although among the first of the troopers engaged, and in the thickest of the conflict, neither he nor his horse was injured.

Mr. Richard Ten Broeck, who started his equine namesake at the recent unparalleled race in Louisville, was the first person to take American horses to England and win with them on the English turf. Since his notable career abroad he has lived quietly at his country place near Louisville.

The Marquis de Chauernay, the representative of one of the leading French families, has just joined the Trappists. In one of the battles of 1870 he was left for dead, and was near being buried by the Germans. Escaping from them he served in the army of the Loire, and was a second time wounded and made a prisoner.

Boss Shepherd gave an elegant entertainment to the visiting rifle teams at his country house near Washington. This was an appropriate attention, inasmuch as he himself is one of the most expert rifiers on either continent. The difference between Boss Shepherd and his guests is that they rifle at long range while he rifles wherever he can find anything to rifle.

After Gen. Crook had brought his exhausted and half-famished soldiers to a safe distance from Sitting Bull's bullets, and had provided them with something better to eat than salted horse-flesh, he went by appointment to Fort Laramie, where he was to confer with Gen. Sheridan on the conduct of the campaign. Crook reached Fort Laramie on Sunday of last week, but found that the debonair Lieutenant-General had departed for the East only the day before, "quite satisfied with the situation."

STATE CANVASS.

Governor Brogden and the negro elector O'Hara speak at Battleboro to-morrow

There is to be a grand Democratic rally and barbecue at Weldon on the 10th. A number of prominent speakers are to be on hand.

The prospect for a Democratic victory in Rutherford county is said to be very good. It is expected that Bean, Democrat, will be elected to the lower House of the General Assembly.

In spite of the overwhelming negro majority the Democratic nominees in Halifax county are making an earnest and vigorous canvass. The full Democratic vote will be brought out.

The Democrats of Cumberland had a large and interesting meeting at Pate's mill Saturday. There was a flag-raising, and a number of ladies were present. Speeches were made by W. F. Campbell and Benj. Robinson.

John T. Sharpe, the Radical nominee for Senator in Nash county, is ineligible to the office on account of not being 25 years of age. This don't make a bit of difference, for if he was a thousand it wouldn't do him any good.

Still another Canadian claimant to the Breadalbane title and estates has appeared—John W. Campbell, of Dalhousie, N. B., who claims through descent from Duncan, Lord Ormalie. The other claimant, Peter Campbell, of St. George, N. B., traces his descent from the same stock, but through a younger brother.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer in writing about political affairs in Rutherford county says:

"You can judge of the effects of the great revival when we announce that old Aaron Biggerstaff has professed conversion and George W Logan is at the mourners bench and Sheriff McFarland is singing the songs of Democratic praise. The last heard of Jim Justice he was in full retreat for Ashville in search of troops.

"It does our heart good to find this prostrate county throwing off her sackcloth and putting on the garments of praise. We will give a long loud whoop on the 7th of November, when victory perches on our banner."

NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On the 16th day of November, 1876, and in the city of Raleigh, the undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Democratic newspaper.

Of long experience in their profession as editors, respectively of the Fayetteville Observer and the Wilmington Journal, they do not affect to doubt the soundness of the general judgment which assigns them ability to furnish a newspaper suited to the needs and adapted to the tastes of the people of North Carolina. Differing in politics in the olden time, there was never a difference between the Observer and the Journal in zeal for the interests and honor of North Carolina. To promote the one, and to uphold and add to the other, will be the object of The Observer now.

Of very decided opinions on questions of public interest, and apt to give those opinions plain expression, they yet deem it the first duty of a newspaper to furnish its readers with the information necessary to the formation of their opinions—to publish all "the news;" and their purpose is to make THE OBSERVER NOW, as of old, a truthful, accurate, condensed history of the time in which we live. It was thus that "the old Observer" won its hold upon the people of North Carolina, enjoying the affection of its party friends, receiving the respect and confidence of its bitterest political foes and commanding in its comparatively isolated location a circulation larger than has ever been attained by any other North Carolina newspaper, and it is thus, by like dignity, and fairness that the editors of THE OBSERVER, transferred to the State capital, hope it will deserve, and soon equal, and then surpass, its former circulation and prosperity.

It will be their high aim to deserve the public confidence by an assiduous effort to promote the public welfare first and foremost of North Carolina, next of all the Southern States, and finally, and through these of the whole Union. They think that this can only be effectively by the prevalence of Democratic principles, and the dismissal of the Radical party from the places and power which they have so greatly abused and under whose baneful rule the whole country has been outraged and the whole country has been impoverished and disgraced.

A Neutral Opinion about Gov. Hayes.

[New York Herald.]

We print a communication from a respected correspondent, who seems to be a warm admirer of Mr. Hayes. We must express our entire dissent from the eulogy of this correspondent. So far as we are able to judge from his record, Mr. Hayes is a man some parts of whose conduct may be approved while no part of it can be admired. We look upon him as a mediocre, well-intentioned gentleman, who has been lifted by the accidents of politics to a position to which he had no title founded on personal qualifications. He has none of the elements of a great and commanding character; neither the breadth of intellect, the force of will, nor the ascendancy over other men with which nature stamps a man born for leadership. He is immeasurably inferior to Morton, Blaine, Conkling, and half a dozen other Republicans that might be named in the qualities which fit a man for influence over other minds and make him felt as a potent force in politics. We believe Mr. Hayes to be honest, but not more honest than hundreds of thousands of citizens who are plain tillers of the soil or who gain their livelihood by mechanical skill. He is not eminent as a lawyer, was not eminent as a soldier, he made no figure in Congress as a legislator, and there are probably few counties in Ohio, which could not furnish as useful a Governor. We have nothing to say against the services rendered in public stations by well meaning mediocrity, but we are unable to see that a small man is rendered great or admirable by a nomination for the Presidency. Our correspondent maintains that Mr. Hayes, if elected, will free himself from party trammels and exercise a noble independence, guided only by justice. We wish we could believe so; but we are unable to find anything in Mr. Hoyes career to warrant so pleasing an expectation. During the three years he was in Congress he was obedient to party behests as the mob of ordinary members. That was the period of enormous land grabs for railroads, and the record proves that Mr. Hayes voted for them all. It would be a poor compliment to his sagacity to say that he acted in ignorance; but not even this lame excuse can be pleaded, for Mr. Elihu B. Washburne, our Minister to France, was then in the House, and distinguished himself by a bold and vigorous opposition to those wasteful, swindling grants of public lands. Unfortunately for the claim of independence which is set up for Mr. Hayes, he never voted on such occasions with Mr. Washburne, but always with the majority of his party. Our correspondent seeks materials of eulogy in Mr. Hayes' action as Governor of Ohio, but he fails to adduce a single instance in which Governor Hayes has acted in opposition to his party.

Our correspondent asserts that on the Southern question the managers of the Republican canvass "audaciously mis-represent their candidate." We are told with great emphasis that Governor Hayes deprecates the waving of the "bloody shirt," and "does not believe in a new stirring up of suspicion, hatred and strife." Conceding that these are the real sentiments of Mr. Hayes, they only prove what a cipher he is in the politics of his own party. The Republican stump speakers and party organs, one and all, are waging the campaign on the Southern issues, which, we are assured, Governor Hayes so strongly disapproves. Such contemptous disregard of the wishes of their candidate proves that they consider him a weak man—a mere figure-head in their canvass. It shows that he has no moral or political influence among his own supporters. If he has none now, how can he be expected to exert any after his election? Among the able men of his party he cannot find the materials of a Cabinet which will endorse his own views; for all the able men in the party, including even George William Curtis, are industriously waving the bloody shirt and trying to make the campaign turn on that issue. Can Mr. Hayes administer the Government without a Cabinet? If the Republicans elect the President they will also elect the next House, and Congress will pass a new Enforcement law to take the place of that which has been annulled by the Supreme Court. Does anybody believe that Mr. Hayes would veto such a bill? Would a man of his moderate talents and peace-loving disposition venture to play the part of Andrew Johnson and court Andrew Johnson's fate? Our correspondent may believe it, but we do not.

Uncle Jimmy's Blue Jeans.

[New York Herald]

Many Jeans have been praised by poets, especially by Burns, Scott, the Ettrick Shepherd and other Scottish bards; but none of these Jeans were ever as pathetic as the blue jeans of that remarkable old man who expects to be the next Governor of Indiana. He is more constant to his jeans than the poets, we fear, were to their. The reasons he gave to our correspondent recently for wearing that strange livery should melt the heart of his obdurate enemy.—Uncle Jimmy Williams does not wear it to gain votes from grangers, but because it is dear to him from many old associations. "For many, many years in the county where I was raised," the old man said, "they could get nothing better to wear." He learned all he knows, though 'taint much, he says, in clothes made of blue jeans. In blue jeans he went to school, and never wanted broadcloth when he went to apple orchards and sledding parties. His voice trembled when he said, "I went a cortin' in blue jeans, and neither she nor the minister objected to marry me on that account when the time came," and rose with indignation as he said, "I'd be ashamed of myself if I was to go back on them now, because a lot of little-minded jackasses think fit to sneer at them." There is poetry in this fond clinging to the blue breeches, because of the memories of the past, and it is, indeed, a sin to sit and grin at them here, although his old granger's hat and his blue jeans and all are so queer. Those blue jeans may yet have the honor to occupy the highest seat in the State of Indiana, and then no scoffer will dare to treat them with ribald scorn. Success will make them respectable, and if Uncle Jimmy becomes fashionable, blue jeans will be the favorite costumes of all the aspiring Democratic politicians of Indiana. No one will tell him then to pull down his vest. Let Uncle Jimmy nail his blue jeans to the mast. His suspenders hold up his principles and trousers together, and it is much better for him to be called old Pantaloon than to be like one of those political Harlequins who mock at him in fine broadcloth clothes, for which it is likely they are still in debt to the tailor.

Official Crimes and Misdemeanors.

Reform is necessary even more in the higher grades of the public service. President, Vice-President, Judges, Senators, Representatives, Cabinet officers, these and all others in authority are the people's servants. Their offices are not a private perquisite; they are a public trust.

When the annals of this Republic show the disgrace and censure of a Vice-President;

A late Speaker of the House of Representatives marketing his rulings as a presiding officer;

Three Senators profiting secretly by their votes as law-makers;

Five chairmen of the leading committees of the late House of Representatives exposed in jobbery;

A late Secretary of the Treasury forcing balances in the public accounts;

A late Attorney-General misappropriating public funds;

A Secretary of the Navy enriched or enriching friends, by percentages levied off the profits of contractors with his department;

A Minister to England censured in a dishonorable speculation;

The President's Private Secretary barely escaping conviction upon trial for guilty complicity in frauds upon the revenue;

A Secretary of War impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors;

The demonstration is complete that the first step in reform must be the people's choice of honest men from another party, lest the disease of one political organization infect the body politic, and lest by making no change of men or parties we get no change of measures and no real Reform.—St. Louis Platform.

Ladies With Us.

[From the Goldsboro Messenger.]

After having introduced Hon. M. W. Ransom to the audience at Snow Hill, Capt. Swift Galloway, in his characteristic eloquence, presented the distinguished statesman with a beautiful boquet of flowers in token of the grateful thanks of the noble ladies of Greene county, for his splendid efforts in behalf of civil liberty and reform. The following note accompanied the boquet:

SEPTEMBER, 30, 1876.

Gen. Ransom:—The ladies of Snow Hill desire to tender you their grateful thanks for your noble efforts to deliver our once happy country from the thraldom of strife and corruption, and for your patriotic endeavors to restore to our oppressed people the priceless boons of peace and prosperity—the rich inheritance for which our fore-fathers fought and died.

Very Respectfully,

* * *

Ladies of Snow Hill.

A Civic Revolution Necessary.

Reform can only be had by a peaceful Civic Revolution.

We demand a change of system, a change of administration, a change of parties, that we may have a change of measures and of men.—St. Louis Platform.

LOCAL MATTER.

"THERE'S WALKING AHEAD OF YOU, TOMMY."

[Verses written by "Peru Thomas" as an appeal to friends while cogitating over the old saw, "Preserve me from my friends and I'll take care of my enemies."]

[For the Daily News.

Away from the mountains, away, away,
The times up here are so stormy;
Every bird of the mountains is chanting the lay,
"There's walking ahead of you, Tommy."

Come hide me, ye mountains, blue peaks of the west,
Carolina beholds me lamenting,
And rueing the day her sons I oppressed,
To outrage and plunder consenting.

I'll never forget my canvass in Moore,
Fame's heroes may sigh for the laurel;
Sixteen noble whites and negroes fourscore,
The lovely crowd headed by Orrell.

Zeb. Vance is tormenting, I'm weary and sore,
And Grant's roguish administration
Combined with Orrell's procession in Moore,
Would kill the best man in the nation.

O, Richard, come help me as quick as you can,
The signs of the time are worth stating,
"There's walking ahead," says every white man,
The negroes and Rads are "rotating."

O, Isaac, and Samuel, the slogan resound,
"The never meets" organization
Must go for weak Radicals wherever found,
And rouse up the whole negro nation.

I'm doing my best to kick up a row,
However the prospect is gloomy;
"To the powers that be" the people say bow
"There's walking ahead of you, Tommy."

Jarvis is playing the dickens with Bill,
And doing some very close shooting;
When Fowle draws a bead he's certain to kill,
So "There's walking ahead" and "tooting."

When I call on the people to vote for old Hayes,
With stealing and plunder they jaw me:
They cry out "reform," and the brass band plays
"There's walking ahead of you, Tommy."

O! for a lone spot where I could repose,
In Peru the times are less stormy;
But that is "play'd out" and Billy still blows
"There's walking ahead of you, Tommy."

Morton's o'd shirt I've flung to the breeze,
By victims of Kirk I'm accosted;
And now a sad dirge comes forth from Deweese,
Corruption is never "exhausted."

There's Isaac, and Richard, the Jurist, "Greasy Sam"
And Abbott and Swepson, and Tim;
Their pockets dishonest with bonds they did cram
And loud chanted loyalty's hymn.

The bill is made out, I'm called on to pay,
And very few whites will vote for me;
Every bird of the mountain is chanting the lay
"There's walking ahead of you, Tommy."

Your carpet-bag shoulder, Tourgee, if you choose,
My load is so heavy I stagger,
'Twould pay us much better than sueing the "NEWS,"
Most excellent carpet-bagger.

The mill of outrage is grinding too slow,
O! Tourgee, most excellent miller,
Grind up those "twenty dead negroes" you know
Who are asleep on a watery pillow.

Send on a detective and hunt up Deweese,
His dark revelations to smother;
The seventh of November will raise such a breeze,
We all all go to Peru together.

Enjoin all the Rads, black and white, to be true,
And I will reward them "by Hannah,"
I'll "exhaust the Judiciary," way down in Peru,
And send each a sack of guano.

Now, Tourgee and Isaac, I bid you adieu,
Zeb. Vance is abroad—take warning;
I have an abundance of "walking" to do,
I'll start for Peru in the morning.

Notes of the State Fair.

So much interest has been displayed in our fair abroad, that we trust and believe that the ladies of Raleigh will come liberally to its support in every form.

We are happy to announce that the cadets of the Bingham school, Maj. R. M. Bingham commanding, will take part in the parade of Thursday, 17th October, at the Fair Ground, on the anniversary of the surrender at Yorktown, and they will be exercised in the skirmish drill between 1 and 2 p. m., of that day. This announcement is on the authority of a letter to Capt. Denson, received yesterday, from the accomplished principal of that institution.

It is hoped that the supplemental premium list will be out to-day for the fair. It has been delayed by daily announcements of additional gifts.

Capt. R. S. Harris, of Concord, Cabarrus county, sends a fine trotting horse to the fair.

Our old friend W. A. Nash, of Lockville, Chatham county, brings one hundred head of fine fowls to the fair The poultry show promises to be unusually good.

We learn that Tarboro will be well represented in trotting stock.

Prospects for the fair are brightening hourly, and everything is in active preparation. The wells are all being put in good order, stalls, coops &c., overhauled, and properly fitted for their uses. Articles donated to the special premium list are now daily arriving.

Personal.

Geo. Badger Harris, of Henderson, and Capt. W. H. Young, are in the city.

Col Walter Clark has returned from Baltimore.

Col. T. C. Fuller returned yesterday from Durham, having just finished, after two weeks work there, taking depositions in the case of Blackwell & Co. vs. Debill & Co.

Hon. George Davis left yesterday afternoon for Hillsboro where he speaks to-morrow.

Inspection of the Police.

Chief of Police Lee had an inspection of his men yesterday afternoon, at the station-house. There are 16 policemen and a chief. The purpose of the inspection was to learn if all the men still had their winter uniforms, and to ascertain if they were otherwise thoroughly equipped. Only one of all the force was found to have lost anything; one policeman was without his oil cloth overcoat, but every article of uniform excepting this, every billy, pistol and star, was found to be in the possession of its owner.

Contributions for the Yellow Fever Sufferers.

The young ladies of St. Mary's school of this city, moved by the sufferings of the people of Savannah and Brunswick, sent a check to Mayor Manly, Wednesday evening, for $20, to be applied for the benefit of these stricken people.

Yesterday evening Mr. C. B. Fairchild drove a load of flowers into Fayetteville street, and stopping in front of the Market House, proceeded to sell them out for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers. About half of the load was sold, realizing $11.08. This amount was paid over to A. P. C. Bryan, Esq., the agent of the Southern Express Company, who will forward it this morning. Mr. Fairchild is entitled to much credit for this donation. He has given more to these suffering people than his share. If all the people of Raleigh had contributed half as much in proportion, the list would be one of which the city would feel proud.

Tired of It.

A good many of the cotton men are sick already of the custom of moving all of the cotton off the streets. They say it has decreased trade very perceptibly. The cotton is hauled to the cotton lot, the seller gets his check, goes to the bank, gets his money and goes home with it. The merchant can't be in his store and at the cotton lot at the same time, and the farmer, who might be induced to buy goods if properly appealed to, goes off with very few purchases. Some of those who were most strenuously in favor of moving the cotton from the streets, would now be happy to see the ordinance repealed.

Woodson Oh, Woodson!

We understand that Woodson, of the Wilson Advance, was present at the Earpsboro speaking. The sun was shining upon Judge Settle, and with his customary gallantry Woodson raised an umbrella and held it over the Judge for one hour and a half. When Gov. Vance rose to speak Woodson again stepped up, with a bright face and polite address, and proposed to hold the umbrella over him. Vance smiled but declined, saying: "No man in America can put me in the shade."

Diphtheria at Cary.

We understand that a very malignant type of diphtheria is prevalent in the vicinity of Cary. Four children have died of it within the last week, and the ravages of the disease continue.

Revenue Collections.

Thus far revenue collections in this District have been rather dull. This is the showing: Monday $1,096 72; Tuesday $2,153 77; Wednesday $8,722.70; Thursday $1,676.42.

A excellent remedy.—Dr. Bull's Vegetable Pills are superior as a cathartic to any other in all the uses which a purgative is employed.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Wilson has sent $50 to Savannah.

The grape yield in Wilson has been very large.

Cotton sales have been brisk in Monroe.

Last week 1,360 bales of cotton were sold in Charlotte.

Rocky Mount rejoices in a resident poet, whose name is Dr. Tatem.

The late rains somewhat damaged cotton in Nash county.

Greenville is daily receiving large amounts of cotton.

Greensboro is crying for a fire engine.

Robberies are on the increase in the vicinity of Goldsboro.

The Albermarle Agricultural Fair begins at Elizabeth City Nov. 1st, and ends on the afternoon of the 3d.

The Methodists of Battleboro are going to have a new church built.

Dr. Gordon, of Toisnot, was thrown from his buggy the other day and very badly hurt.

In Wilson the daily cotton receipts average 71 bales.

William Meisslmer, now in jail at Statesville under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Heileg, has confessed his guilt.

The purse of J. H. Potts, Steele Creek township, Mecklenburg county, was robbed last week of articles to the value of $100. When the robery was committed the family were at church.

The other day a couple of negro burglars, guilty of robbing a jewelry store in Spartanburg, S. C., were arrested in Charlotte.

Well executed $10 bills on the La Fayette National Bank, Ind., are floating about in various sections of the State.

Wilmington has contributed liberally to the necessities of the Savannah sufferers.

The officers of the Whiting Rifles, a new white military organization in Wilmington, have received their commissions.

Frost has been general throughout the eastern portion of the State.

The Newbern Board of Underwriters has been reorganized with Geo. Allen as president.

Captain John Osgood, a highly respected citizen of Newbern, was found dead in his bed Thursday morning. Heart disease was the cause.

Tillman Crawford, a notorious Randolph county outlaw, has been arrested and lodged in jail at Albemarle, Stanly county.

Kish Alexander and Mark Kirk, a couple of negroes, got into a row last Sunday at King's Mountain Gold Mine, which resulted in Kish putting a pistol ball through the heart of the latter.

NOON DISPATCHES

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Colorado Election—The Vote in Delaware—Indian Outbreak Threatened.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Dispatches from Wilson, Chairman of the Republican State Committee of Colorado, to Postmaster Edmunds, claim that Tuesday's election carries with it the Presidential electoral vote of the State. This, whatever the law may have intended, effectually decides the matter.

Democratic majorities in Delaware are as follows: New Castle county, 342; Kent, 1,079; Sussex 463.

Dispatches from Colorado and New Mexico report that a serious Indian outbreak is threatened.

FOREIGN.

The Eastern War—What the Powers Are Doing—War Imminent.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Times' Berlin special says that Russia is arming with energy. Valuable furniture and moveables have been taken from the Russian chapel and hospital at Constantinople and sent to Odesey.

Austria is calling recruits earlier than usual, and preparing for the immediate mobilization of several army corps.

England confidentially informs Austria that she neither approves nor will co-operate in an armed occupation of Turkey.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says that every one is now convinced that the peace of Europe can only be maintained by a conference. The only question is whether the conference shall precede or follow military occupation.

BELGRADE, Oct. 5.—A correspondent of the London Times says that Servia has hired two hundred mechanics from the imperial German gun factory for six months.

The Daily News' Madrid dispatches announce the appointment of Campos as Captain-General of Cuba.

The War in Cuba.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Mail advices from Havana, Sept. 30, say that the insurgents took possession of the city Los Tunis Sept. 22. The Diario confirms this news, saying that the garrison were probably in connivance with the insurgents. The Diario says that henceforth it will give news whether good or bad. The strategic importance of Los Tunis is very great. It is reported that Jovellar desires no more troops sent to Cuba unless money is sent to support them. It is feared that there will be a mutiny unless the soldiers are paid. They have had no pay in seven months.

MISCELLANEOUS TELEGRAMS.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A Reuter from Vienna says that according to the most reliable information Austria does not entertain the slightest idea of breaking with Russia.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

THE CUBAN WAR.

Insurgent Success—Treason Suspected—A New Plan of Operations.

KEY WEST, Oct. 5.—The latest news from Havana states that the insurgent General Vicente Garcia before evacuating Los Tunos burned down the whole place, escorting the inhabitants, sick and wounded, to some distance. The garrison were taken along as prisoners, excepting the commander, Gen. Taledo and his officers, who were liberated. This latter step is very suspicious, and the public is clamoring for an investigation into the behavior of officers.

Captain General Jovellar left the city night before last by a special train with two companies of veterans. He is going first to the jurisdiction of Colon, where the insurgents have burned a place called Calimete. Thence he goes to Los Tunos.

Newspapers here say that Jovellar goes to prepare matters for the coming winter campaign, but there is no doubt that recent events decided his sudden departure. Matters have come to look serious. The insurgents have lately shown much vigor and determination, appearing suddenly where least expected.

Maxima Gomez, in person, is said to be far advanced in the jurisdiction of Colon. Rumors, not without foundation, speak of heavy desertions amongst the Spanish troops, who are exposed to privations and misery, whilst a great many officers who walk the streets of Havana, appear to be living well. It is said that the government intends not to harrass the troops any longer, but garrison all places and use soldiers to arrive from Spain to protect all estates during the next crop.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—For the South Atlantic and Gulf States higher, followed by falling barometer, winds mostly from the South-east to South-west; stationary to rising temperature; cloudy weather will prevail with rainy areas in former and possibly occasional rains in the latter.

THE GEORGIA ELECTION.

The Tidal Wave of Democracy.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 5.—Returns received show Colquitt, Democrat, elected Governor by forty thousand majority. There was virtually no opposition. The Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Opinion of Dr R. S. Steuart, President of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore: "I have used Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator for more than a year, and recommend it as one of the most efficient preparations I have ever met with. It combines the virtues of food and tonic in a remarkable way."
